Executive Assistant/Council Liaison a Google Meet overview and the chair led council through grounding documents for the meeting. The chair provided opening remarks and introductions of two new council members Dr. David Fakunle and Molline Jackson.

Joan Lyon presented the following Program Planning and Evaluation (PPE) Committee Recommendations - All recommendations were sent prior to the council meeting:

Accessibility Policy Recommendations: The proposals are a direct result of the public editing process for Accessibility at MSAC. The editing process included over 25 editors, ranging from artists with disabilities, representation from arts organizations and programs (including Maryland stakeholders), and representation from The Maryland Developmental Disabilities Council and Maryland Assistive Technology Program. All recommendations have been approved by the Assistant Technology Program. All recommendations have been approved by the Assistant Attorney General.

After joining at the conclusion of the meeting. Lily Bengfort emailed concerns about the new language in the definition of accessibility in the arts. Noting overall its excellent and the proposed language for almost every section is beneficial and a needed change from the current language. Also noting the second part of the definition is unnecessary and the first paragraph is sufficient.

Shelley Morhaim made a motion to approve accessibility policy revisions. Carole Alexander seconded the motion. All in favor. Lily Bengfort does not support inclusion of this language to the definition.

Special Request Grant Eligibility: following up from the previous Council meeting, the revisions increase transparency in the application process regarding eligibility for funding in the Special Request Grant Program.

Jacqueline Copeland made a motion to approve the special request grant eligibility revisions. Anne West seconded the motion. All in favor.

Keyona Penick presented the council with an update of the Program (folklife public art, exhibition, creativity, etc.) Partners and committees (grants, governance, finance, executive, nominating and PPE). A New Model: We will establish a public resource page, holding contributions by any staff member or collaborator, of professional development experiences (events, conferences, courses, classes, books, podcasts). This approach is tied to a staff organizational goal: Complete multiple types of professional development to increase the personal and professional knowledge necessary to ensure equitable internal and external practices. The offer of $1K per staff member/councilor to pursue their own professional development. Please start exploring, work with Keyonna to register for events, and come back to Council meetings to share our learning. Incorporate the equity/justice work into reading, podcast listening, and any other opportunities to gain knowledge about the role that equity plays in our world and how we apply what we discover to the work of MSAC. This approach is about you showing up in your position well-informed through the choices you are making for professional growth.

Collaborator Update

Maryland Citizens for the Arts, Nicholas Cohen provided a legislative outlook for the state. Racial Justice legislation an uphill battle as according to civil rights law, no program can be targeted to a specific group. Legislation will have to reflect a need through a disparity study and analyzing funding structures. The Capital Program legislation has been reduced from 10 million to 5 million. Although the Preservation of Cultural Arts grant was vetoed it should be overridden. Nicholas also informed the council that the Regional Arts Summit will more than likely continue to offer a virtual component in the future.
